A Night of Hilarity.

The members of the Glee Club, were pleased on hearing the news that the celebration of the coming Christmas and New Year holidays will start at 12:01 midnight Sundays due to the fact that both holidays, this season, fall on a Monday. Public dance balls and other places of entertainment will be permitted to open at 12:01 midnight on the Sundays preceding each holiday. A provincial statute states that such places must close at 12 midnight Saturday and remain closed until 8 a.m. the following Monday; but this statute has been suspended for this particular occasion. The Glee Club is said to be arranging to celebrate these occasions in a fitting manner.

Dr. Gillespie Honored.

Dr. W. Fulton Gillespie was elected president of the Edmonton Medical Academy at its convention held last week in the Medical building at the University. The Doctor will be remembered by Stony's oldtimers, he having practised medicine here for a short time in the year 1921. While here the Doctor was prominent in the Sunday School and church work at the local United Church, during the incumbency of Rev F.W. Wilson as pastor. The Doctor left here to assist in his father's practise, in Edmonton.

Miss M. M. Allen Wedded.

Her young friends and former schoolmates were interested on hearing that Miss Mabel Maude Allen was married at Sanguedo last week to Mr. A. P. Wendt. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Allen, are well known in Stony, they having resided for five or six years, removing from here in 1923. The bride's attendants were her two sisters, Miss Kathleen and Miss Elsie. The Newly-weds will reside in Sanguedo.

For Needy Folks.

In another column will be found a printed appeal to all good hearted people in Stony and district, on behalf of the Hope Mission, in Edmonton. The Mission asks for cash, clothing, food. A very careful supervision is given the needy cases, and donors here can rest assured their contributions will reach the right parties. As in former years, Mr. T. J. Hardwick has undertaken to look after all donations left at his business place for the Mission.

R. C. Church Services.

On Christmas Eve midnight masses will be offered in both Spruce Grove and Stony Plain. Rev. Father Keenan will be assisted by one of the Franciscan Fathers from North Edmonton. Christmas morning masses will be offered at Carvel, Duffield, Duffield Reserve and Wabamun.

ONLY 20¢ A BIG PLUG

A Happy Warrior

Many letters and postage parcels being delivered to people in Canada and the United States these days bear a little stamp in addition to the regular postage stamps. To a steadily increasing extent at the Christmas season these little extra stamps are in evidence on our mail.

What do they mean? What object do they serve? What message do they bring?

They bring a message of Christmas greetings and good wishes from the sender of the letter to the receiver of it. The regular postage stamp is a purely business stamp, a notification and receipt, as it were, that the carrying charges on the letter or parcel have been paid. But this other little stamp appearing on the reverse side of the letter from the address side is a very personal thing, carrying a purely personal message.

But there is nevertheless a business aspect to these unofficial stamps. The question has been asked, what object do they serve? The answer is that through the sale of these little stickers for our mail, money is raised for one particular purpose, and that purpose is to urge unremitting warfare throughout the year upon the dread disease of tuberculosis. And it is at the time when all people recall the Christmas message of "Peace on earth, goodwill toward men," that this little harbinger of hope makes its annual appearance.

One cent is not a large sum of money, and that is the price of one of these little stamps. But when thousands of people buy a stamp, ten stamps, one hundred stamps, and the total sale of these stamps runs away up into the hundreds of thousands and millions, and the one cent pieces roll into the coffers of the anti-tuberculosis organizations in hundreds of thousands and millions, it means that many people all over this great continent are going to receive preventive treatment against tuberculosis which otherwise they could not obtain. It means that a danger and a threat to every home throughout the land will be discovered and steps taken to remove it. It means that countless numbers of children will be saved from this dread disease to live lives of good health and usefulness whereas otherwise they would probably all be too early grave.

But these little stamps serve still another purpose. They mean more than a Christmas greeting and a simple practical method of raising money for a great health and humanitarian purpose. They come into the homes of the land on letters and parcels once a year with a kindly warning. They ask us to take note of them; to stop and consider what they represent; and they bring a further message into every home they enter—an urgent request that we check up on ourselves and our homes once again to ascertain whether or not we are living under conditions, or indulging in habits, conducive to the contraction or development of tuberculosis.

The message of these stamps is to educate people, to prevent tuberculosis from getting even a foothold, just as the practical object of their sale is to raise funds to maintain educational preventive agencies all the year round and to provide means of stamping out the disease in its very earliest stages where it has unfortunately obtained a foothold.

So, to the man, woman or child who has a nasty, persistent cold, the stamp on your mail says: Beware; do not neglect that cold, take steps to stop it at once, and if it doesn't stop see a doctor without loss of time. It says to the boys and girls who get their feet wet, and to their mother, get those wet boots and stockings off, dry and warm those feet. It points a finger of warning in homes where there is a lack of pure, fresh air, and says: open the windows and let in all the sunshine and air you can, winter as well as summer.

Because this little stamp means so much, carries such important messages and performs such a highly important work, the more of them that are started out on their mission the better. Individual readers of this article may never know how much actual good they have accomplished by placing these stamps on their letters and parcels during the next few days. The few cents they cost will be put to good purpose, and you may thereby be directly responsible for the saving of a life. The message the stamp may carry on your letter into the home of a friend or relative may result in greater care to prevent tuberculosis being taken in that home. Possibly the stamp on a letter received by you has caused you to do some serious thinking; return the favor by sending a stamp into some home where like beneficial results may follow.

Assist Fur Farmers

Amendments To Regulations Under Saskatchewan Fur Act

Saskatchewan's legitimate fur farmers will receive relief from royalty payments on farm-raised fur-bearing animals through amendments to the regulations under the Saskatchewan Fur Act, provided for by order-in-council.

These regulations provide for no collection of royalties on silver black foxes, fisher or marten, bred on a licensed fur farm, and provides also for the rebate of all royalties collected on all other furs except muskrat, where sufficient proof is provided that the pelts were from animals actually raised on the farm.

In the case of fox, fisher or marten, royalties are collected, and are subject to rebate in a similar manner to the way in which gasoline tax refunds are made.

The new regulations also make provision for the abolition of fees for import permits, although such permits will be still required. Such permits will be issued free of charge.

Relief is also granted to those purchasing pelts. Formerly purchasers were required to pay 25 cents per pelt, but now such has been reduced to "a fee equal to the royalty" which would be due and payable on such pelts.

Code Of The Hoboes

Do Not Seek Something For Nothing And Scorn Hitch Hikers

While they lost no time in drawing up a code of fair practice, the Hoboes of America as represented at their annual convention find that "riding the rods" of box cars has become even too hazardous for the veteran "boon," what with the new single rods and the high trucks now in use. But the hoboes still scorn the hitch hiker and do not seek something for nothing. The code for the "itinerant workmen" provides: Hoboes will not wash dishes or otherwise work in a restaurant for meals—such might take work away from a man with a family, but for clearing snow off walks shall be 50 cents an hour and the same rate apply to shovelling coal or cleaning windows. Hoboes may chop some wood on farms in exchange for a bed in the barn or a meal, but shall not chop all day for those awards.

Dairy Convention

Saskatchewan Meeting To Be Held In Regina In February

A Saskatchewan-wide dairy convention will be held in Regina on February 8 and 9. It was announced by Thomas Watson, Prince Albert, president of the Provincial Dairy Association.

Dairy producers and manufacturers will hold separate sessions on the opening day. Factors affecting the production of milk and marketing problems will be dealt with by the producers, particularly in regard to the fluid milk and cream trade. The manufacturers' session will have under consideration matters of plant operation, and butter and cheese production.

Joint sessions will occupy the second day, when problems of general interest will receive attention.

Makes Crossing Easy

Test Of Germany's Mid-Atlantic Aerodromes Was A Success

The proposal that a series of great floating pontoons be anchored at intervals across the Atlantic from America to Europe, thus serving as stepping stones for trans-oceanic air planes, is not new, but evidently it has remained for Germany to put the idea into practical use. The Westfalen is anchored in mid-Atlantic in preparation for the proposed regular air mail service between Germany and South America. In a recent test flight a plane reached the ship in six hours from Bathurst, Africa, then took off and reached Natal, Brazil, eight hours and 50 minutes later, thus crossing the Atlantic in under 15 hours flying time.—Christian Science Monitor.

Juvenile Law Too Lenient

Woman Magistrate From England Has Had Seven Years' Experience

Seven years' experience as presiding officer at the Juvenile Court in St. Pancras Division, London, England, has led Mrs. Philip Bright, J.P., to believe that children who break laws are often treated in too lenient a fashion, particularly when they repeat offences. "I admit," said Mrs. Bright when interviewed at Montreal, "that I am one of the few women judges who has ever ordered a boy to be birched. But the boy was a repeated offender and I must say that after he had been birched he never again appeared in the court before me."

No children appear in juvenile court in England until they are eight years of age and are considered juvenile cases until they reach 17. Mrs. Bright pointed out. The whole atmosphere of the juvenile courts are one of informality, she explained, the police officers testifying in civilian clothes instead of the awe-inspiring blue and brass. She felt this system had acted as a boomerang as it tended to do away with much that would impress the errand boy or girl with the majesty of the law which they had broken.

As long as the mother was "all right," Mrs. Bright said, it was felt that the children of the family could easily be led back into paths of rectitude from which they might have strayed, regardless of the character of their father. But if the mother was "the good" the work of the Juvenile Court Official was regarded as a colossal task, whether the father was a consistent offender or whether he was a law-abiding man. She is a firm believer in the sanctity of marriage, and would make it more difficult than more easy to get divorced, except when one partner in the marriage is a habitual criminal or is found to be incurably insane.

Crime conditions have improved very much in Britain, Mrs. Bright added. "We are closing prisons in England—not building them," she added.

Revaluating The Horse

Demand In Recent Months Has Over-taken The Supply

It is arguable that farmers in the long run can do as much for themselves by revaluating the horse as by devaluing the dollar. Students of the agrarian problem know that no small part of the farmer's trouble is due to the gasoline engine, which has been displacing the horse and so robbing the farmer of an outlet for his hay and feed. Millions of acres have thus gone out of cultivation. In 1920 there were more than 20,000,000 horses on the nation's farms. In 1930 they were down to 13,500,000.

Since the depression the horse has been coming back. A bulletin of the Horse Association of America says there were on March 1 this year, 15,250,000 horses on the farm. Receipts of horses at the public stock yards in the last eight months of this year were nearly 30 per cent. higher than for the same period last year. One depression argument is that when farm prices are down it costs less to feed horses and mules than to feed tractors.

Time has its revenge. Tractor agents in the past no doubt warned the farmer against draught animals which ate their heads off. The farmer now wants all the horses—and human beings—he can find to eat their heads off. He still has foodstuffs to sell.—New York Times.

Alcoholic Poisoning

Many Deaths From This Cause Says University Professor

Prof. Joslyn Rogers, assistant professor of chemistry at the University of Toronto, addressing the Women's Canadian club, stated that more people died of alcoholic poisoning than all other causes added together.

Ten per cent. of these died from drinking good alcoholic beverage; 75 per cent. died from bootleg or bathtub gin. He pointed to the potency of home-made alcohol and its ability to knock a man out—something which was a fact but which was not yet understood by chemists. The danger in drinking one's own wine or alcoholic beverage was obvious he said.

Multi-Colored Bricks

Building Bricks Of Various Hues And Tints Now Having Vogue

In recent years there has been a marked improvement in England, particularly in the south, in favor of multi-colored rough-textured bricks, states a report, issued recently by the Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, on the building brick industry in England.

The colors range from white, yellow, tan, brown, red, to purple, blue, black grey with variegated and mottled tints. Descriptions such as "autumn tints," "cherry red," "brindled," "dark strawberry," "caramel red plum," "silver grey," "golden grey," "pot-pourri," "brown mottled bridle," found in catalogues, give an indication of the wealth of vivid colorings.

But these are greatly outdistanced by the Americans. Urged by the recent enthusiasm of architects for color, they have achieved a remarkable range of gradation in light shades—white, cream, stone, limestone, grey to match natural stone, from buff, golden buff, as well as in vivid tints of tangerine, toasted brown, pale greens, reds, blues and purples. They have reproduced the tints of the aycamore and its foliage, red, grey, golden brown, green and fawn.

Reference is made to the adoption in American skyscrapers of flowing color schemes, wherein hue is superimposed on hue, or where the contrasting of light and dark is used in columns running to the height of the building, thus emphasizing the vertical construction.

Celebrate Radium Wedding

Couple In Devon Have Been Married Seventy Years

In the little village of Axmouth, near Seaton (Devon), the two oldest inhabitants have celebrated their "radium wedding."

And in case you don't know what a radium wedding is, it represents seventy years of conjugal bliss.

The couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoare, each aged about ninety. They were born at Axmouth and married in the village church. They still live there, though they were away from the old village for many years, for Mr. Hoare served his full time with the Metropolitan Police.

His reminiscences of police work in London are worth hearing, for he has vivid memories of the Jack the Ripper murders, being closely connected with the police investigations.—London Sunday Pictorial.

Scientific Help For Farmers In Improving The Quality Of Wheat In The West

Farmers may look for scientific help in at least two directions as a result of the work under way for improving the quality of wheat grown in the outlying parts of the western plains and increasing its effectiveness in export competition. Dr. A. G. McCalla stated at Ottawa. The first scientific assistance which farmers might expect was "towards better adapted varieties produced by plant breeders." The second was "towards improved fertilizing practices based on scientific information."

Dr. McCalla spoke at a meeting of the Biology Club. For some years a member of the associate committee on grain research of the national research council, he has been stationed at Edmonton.

The highest protein wheat grown in western Canada, it had been known for some time, came from the drier, south-central portion of the plains. Dr. McCalla stated.

In recent years, evidence had been accumulating that the quality as well as the quantity of the protein tended to be degraded. The protein was pushed into the more northern districts, unless well adapted varieties were grown.

"But what has not been realized until the present season," he continued, "is that the keeping quality of the flour also may be affected by the conditions under which the wheat is grown."

During the course of experiments to test the milling and baking quality of rust, smut and other wheat strains produced at the University of Alberta, he proceeded, it became clear that only wheats with special characteristics, not hitherto recognized, could be grown satisfactorily on the wooded soils which made up so large a proportion of northern Alberta and Saskatchewan. When a series including the new varieties and others commonly grown in the prairie provinces was grown both at Edmonton, on black soil, and at Falis, about 50 miles west, on grey wooded soil, and samples compared, "very striking differences" were found.

While nearly all of them made good bread when grown at Edmonton, several fell off considerably in bread quality when grown at Falis. "Still more striking were the differences after the flour had been stored about nine months," he declared. "The Edmonton-grown samples had deteriorated badly, only a very few of either the old or new varieties at the latter point now making first class bread."

The fact that some varieties do maintain both their initial quality and their quality after storage, even when grown under these adverse conditions, Dr. McCalla continued, was of great importance to the plant breeder, who must now direct his effort to producing varieties which possessed this valuable characteristic. In the meantime, cereal chemists, including himself, were bending their effort to explain the cause of the differences found.

By his own work it had been shown that the nutrition of the wheat plant affected the quality of the grain very directly. The amount of soil nitrogen available to the crop determined very largely the quantity of protein in the kernels but apparently had little effect on its quality.

This depended on the availability of certain mineral elements like potassium and calcium. The elucidation of these factors, Dr. McCalla declared, obviously will have an important bearing on fertilizing practices.

Another Trafalgar Square

Few People Know There Are Two In London, England

It is surprising to find how many Londoners are unaware of the existence of another Trafalgar Square in London, England, besides the one surrounding the Nelson Column.

It is tucked away off the beaten track in old Chelsea, and where one or two new white houses are reminiscent of the South of France or Hollywood, the majority still retain their English, Georgian air—London Daily Sketch.

France Reminds Germany About Wording of Last Year's Agreement

Albert Sarraut, former Premier of France, said: "This country will keep its sang-froid, it will avoid exciting alarm and it will face tomorrow calmly, for it does not know fear, and France now possesses a material and military force that prevents any one from dictating to her what road she shall take."

I say to the German Government: "You affirm your desire for peace. That is also our desire. We have no wish to diminish or lessen your country. We prefer that Germany should have a just part in the concert of nations. We are not insensible to your suffering. We have never closed the door against your economic expansion. We have always sought and are always ready to seek possibilities of agreement and understanding."

But when that has been said, we have a right to demand that this desire for agreement should be loyally applied in settling the question of equality of rights. It should be remembered that the declaration of December 12 last year contained the two words equality and security."

Transforming Old London

Familiar Landmarks Pulled Down To Make Way For New Buildings

Imperceptibly the London that we know is disappearing. Old familiar landmarks are being pulled down. What is almost as important, the London that we can see is disappearing also.

When a building, however charming and familiar, but of no particular historical interest, has outlived its times and usefulness, there is no valid objection to its removal.

But, cannot something be done to control the erection of new edifices while towering to heaven, completely blot out some of the finest architectural views of the world?

It was only after the tall new telephone building in Queen Victoria Street was finished that London became aware that the fine prospect of St. Paul's from Blackfriars Bridge had been stolen from the public.

Similarly, when the temporary Waterloo Bridge has been removed, it will be found that the new Lever House has sadly interfered with the famous view of St. Paul's rising over the city.

Fears are now entertained that the grand view of Whitehall, with the towers of Parliament in the background, may be destroyed by the proposed government offices there.

Instructions have been prepared for the architect which effectively confine the new building within the limits necessary to preserve the Whitehall view.

Marine Curiosity

Bearded Turtle Reaches Vancouver From China

A bearded turtle is the latest addition to British Columbia's marine curiosities.

It is not unique, but is rare enough to be considered sacred by Chinese.

The hirsute one, about the size of a man's hand and 20 years old, a youngster as turtles go, crossed the Pacific in a gold flat bowl on the "Empress of Russia," resting in the cabin of Ship's Interpreter Chan Sang, where Jose sticks burned night and day in its honor.

The turtle is honored among Chinese for its sagacity and longevity, but when it has a covering of hair, it becomes sacred.

The present specimen has long green hair and was captured in the sacred lake of Hong Chow, on the Yantse-Kiang River. It will be presented to Mayor Louis D. Taylor and the citizens of Vancouver.

Canada Again Wins The World's Wheat Crown At Chicago International Show

Enlarging The Vocabulary

New Words Are Added To English Dictionary

The King's English has been brought up to date with the publication of the supplementary volume of the Oxford English Dictionary. Needless to say there are hundreds of words in this supplement of which Dr. Johnson was ignorant.

Take a few examples—cubism, futurism, robot, pacifism, radium, movies, talkies, clock, hooligan, broadcasting, loud-speaker, lipstick, psychoanalysis, pussyfoot, photostat, profit, ga-ga, bobby and algalick. "It gives the impression of a very talented, very nervous, highly-strung generation, equally harassed by its pleasures as by its pains, and eager to pass from one sensation to another," said the president of Magdalen, George Gordon, at a luncheon at Goldsmiths, Hall in celebration of the completion of the supplement. "I find many words expressing contempt for age—doddler, back-number, and so on. I find too large a vocabulary for a single nation—devoted to distinguish every possible kind of comfort at every hour of the day and night."

Mr. Gordon added that however rude or crude were American terms they were so expressive, so impudent, near the truth, that it was very hard to resist them a place in any honest lexicon.

Such terms were graft, once-over, dope, foolproof, and step-on-the-gas. Honest contributions from Australia were to make an abominable, bar-racking and no-does-on-me. A familiar and very modern phrase, which he thought was of British origin—leaves me cold—might actually have come from Germany.

Social Service In Britain

Over Two Billion Dollars Expended For This Purpose Last Year

No less than $2,450,000,000 was expended last year on the public social services of the United Kingdom, including such benefits as unemployment insurance, widows' and former service-men's pensions.

The total for the year 1900 for these services was $306,000,000. After 1910 there was a sudden jump to $1,530,000,000 when the national insurance system was instituted.

Figures for the latest available year indicate more than 12,000,000 are directly benefiting from the unemployment insurance funds and 18,000,000 from the health insurance.

Canada won her 19th wheat crown in 23 years and her second oat championship at the international hay and grain show at Chicago.

Judges awarded first place among the world's wheat growers to Frank Isackson, of Elfron, Sask., and premier position among growers of oats to Ian Smith, Wolf Creek, Alberta.

Victories of the two western agriculturists climaxed a score of wins by the Dominion's growers as the cereal grains were judged. They attained leading positions in many classes.

Smith's oats topped those shown by Ellis Aldrich of Fairgrove, Mich. He gained the prize won last year by Fred Hamm, of Goodfame, Alberta.

A pioneer in the Elfron district since 1906, Isackson won the major prize of the show on hard red spring wheat of the Reward variety made famous by the three-times wheat king, the hard red of Wembley, Alberta. In 1932 Isackson placed 12th in the spring wheat class and in 1930 was 38th.

Saskatchewan's string of wheat kings at the international mounted to 11 as Isackson achieved victory.

Alberta has won the title seven times and Manitoba once. But king of all wheat kings was still Seager Wheeler, the grand old man of the soil at Rosthern, Sask., who won the crown five times.

Just as important to Canada as Isackson's victory was the brilliant win of a British Columbia farmer, William Rogers, of Tappen, who carried off the reserve championship in the wheat strawstacks.

Down in the valley of the rocky coastal province Rogers grew a strain of wheat looked on as inferior to the hard spring wheats. It was Mindun type of Durum, yet it surpassed in quality scores of other varieties entered at the show.

Two other important victories were given Canadians—both of them Albertans—in the grain classes. J. H. B. Smith of Wolf Creek, who in 1929 won the wheat crown, was awarded a regional first place in the two-rowed barley class. Nels Linden, of Wetaskiwin, captured first in the six-rowed Trest type barley class.

Isackson's international championship wheat had previously been selected as the best hard red spring wheat in the show. Of the first 49 awards, Saskatchewan growers took 25; Alberta 20; Manitoba, three, and British Columbia one.

S. B. Allison, of Wembley, Alberta, captured the championship of the hard red winter wheat class and following Rogers, of Tappen, B.C., in the Durum class were six Saskatchewan growers, four from Manitoba, four from Ontario and one from British Columbia. Ontario won two and British Columbia one in the awards made in the soft red winter wheat. Five awards in the white winter wheat class went to Ontario and one to British Columbia.

Schools Protected

Schools In Douthorbor Areas In Saskatchewan Are Again Insured

After being without fire insurance for at least two years, some of them longer, 60 rural school buildings, practically all of them in north-central Saskatchewan, either in or close to Douthorbor settlements, are again insured.

Premier J. T. M. Anderson, as Minister of Education, announced the government had been able to complete arrangements whereby the schools could be insured, and the districts, against loss as the result of fire.

It was learned the insurance was taken out through a group of companies at a rate somewhat higher than the usual premium on school buildings.

So many schools located in Douthorbor districts were burned in recent years, most of them known to be incendiary, that the companies finally refused to carry insurance on any of them. It has been known for some time the government was making efforts to correct that situation.

Some Soviet Debts

Russia Has Repudiated More Than Any Other Nation

One of the most interesting explanations of the new recognition of the Soviet by President Roosevelt must be on the debt problem. These debts are not so often mentioned in the U.S. press as those owed by France or Britain. Meantime Russia has repudiated more debts than any other nation. They exceed $13,750,000,000 to France, and $3,013,732,030 to Great Britain. Of course, there are more recent debts contracted in trading with Germany. The Prussian Premier Goerring said that "more German workers could live if Russia paid her bills." That the soviet government does not pay its bills is obvious. There, too, is the overdue debt to the United States to the amount of $283,000,000. In Washington special recognition of this trifle at all?—Brandon Sun.

Educationalists Convene

Prominent Pedagogues Of Canada And U.S. Meet At Detroit

Some of the most prominent educationalists of Canada and United States, in deep conference at Detroit, took time enough to watch a pair of their leaders toss harpoons into their own methods.

The harpooning began with an address by Dr. Burgess Johnson, of Syracuse University, who told the National Council of Teachers of English he believed "figures almost invariably lie, and that mathematics is a form of sin."

Then came Dr. Stephen Leacock, famous humorist and economist of McGill University, Montreal, who asserted today's college graduate has been "badly damaged" by his education. He said the trouble lies in the fact that "education, in nine cases out of 10, is not pursued for its own sake."

Bill Instead Of Fortune

Man Wrote About Legacy And Got Tax Notice

England's most disappointed and disillusioned man is J. Moore, of Wandsworth.

Fifty-five years ago his wife's grandmother bought land just outside Melbourne, Australia, and then forgot about it.

Recently Mr. Moore read that a building scheme in the same district had turned a man who owned land there into a millionaire.

It was a pleasant thought. Mr. Moore posted the original documents of possession to the town clerk at Melbourne and asked for an estimate of the value of the property.

Back came a letter stating that the land had not been built on, and that its value was still £30. Enclosed was a bill for £13 15s.

The bill was land tax for 55 years at the rate of five shillings a year!

Doughboy Troubles

Believes Unrest In B.C. Resulted From Internal Controversy

Suspect in British Columbia's trouble with Doughboys, including nude parades, fires, bombing, etc., centred around leadership and arose from internal controversy in the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, is made in a reference to the subject in the annual report of Col. J. H. McMullin, commissioner of B.C. provincial police.

"Since Peter Verigin left the province," the report states, "we have had no trouble of any kind with the Doughboys. It is not suggested the Doughboy leader was in any way directing the perpetration of those outrages. On the contrary, our information indicates it is highly improbable he had anything to do with them at all; but the sudden cessation creates a suspicion all Doughboy troubles, including nude parades, centred around the leadership and arose from an internal controversy among the directorate of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood."

An Amusing Incident

Boy Readmitted Into Hospital To Meet Royal Visitor

There was an amusing incident during the Duke of Gloucester's tour of the Pontypriid and Rhonda areas of the South Wales coal-field, when he visited the Pontypriid Hospital. The Duke chatted with all the 30 patients, including a nine-year-old boy named Teddy Seward. It appears that Teddy's birthday coincided with the Duke's visit, and that he had been the ambition of his young life to meet the Prince or some other member of the Royal family. However, he was discharged cured before the Duke's visit, but the nurses re-admitted him, and tucked him into bed in order that he might see the Duke.

SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

DECEMBER 17

PAUL IN ROME

Golden Text: "I press on toward the goal unto the prize of the high calling of God our Lord Jesus"—Philippians 3:14.

Lesson: Acts, Chapters 27, 28.

Devotional Reading: Psalm 23.

Explanations and Comments

The Meeting Of Paul And The Chief Jews Of Rome, verses 17-32.—After resting only three days, Paul summoned the chief Jews in the city to meet him, and told them of his experiences, how, although he had in no way violated the customs of "our fathers," he had been delivered by the Jews of Jerusalem up to Roman authorities as a prisoner. The latter had been ready to set him at liberty, but when the Jews opposed this he had been forced to appeal to Caesar. He had sent for them to tell them this; that because of the hope of Israel, the Messiah's hope, he had been in chains.

The most difficult task before Paul, the one he naturally most dreaded, arose with this conference with those Jewish authorities, and this was the first business to which he attended. "Tackle the dream of the world," the words which hang over a business man's desk. That is good counsel.

The Jews politely answered that they had no written report from Jerusalem concerning Paul; they wished to hear what he had to say, although they knew that this sect (speaking of the sect of the Nazarenes, Acts 24:15, as they would of the sect of the Sadducees) was everywhere condemned. Why were the Roman Jews so reserved and suspicious? "The commonly received answer is that they lived in Rome in a state of great insecurity. They had but recently been allowed to return from banishment. Some think the decree of banishment had been occasioned by tumults caused by the unwelcome Jews attacking their Christian fellow-countrymen. They saw Paul respected by imperial officers; they felt themselves obliged to be very careful to avoid all show of disturbance."

Preaching And Teaching In Rome, verses 23-31.—A special day was appointed when special numbers of Jews came to Paul's lodging to hear him. He preached to them, proclaiming the spiritual nature of the Kingdom of God, for the common Jewish belief was in a temporal kingdom, and by recalling the law and the prophets he endeavored to persuade them concerning Jesus. As always, some believed and some disbelieved.

For two whole years Paul abode in his own hired house, and to all who came to hear him he proclaimed the Kingdom of God, and taught them concerning Jesus, speaking with a boldness, none forbidding him. "It is still hard to get justice and get it quickly. How can judges, jurymen, attorneys-at-law and police officials be Christianized? Can the pious sentiments which many of them feel personally find expression in their professional activities? It has taken years to convict Chicago's chief gangster, and in his conviction the courts of the city and state where he resided had no part. Moreover, he was found guilty of minor offences only. The case is flagrant, but not exceptional. Apparently the only thing for good citizens to do is to keep the selfishness of pitiless publicity playing upon judicial machinery and to use the ballot to retire officials who have proved themselves unworthy."—Edward Laird Mills.

ACREAGE CUT PLAN IS READY FOR NEXT CROP

Ottawa, Ont.—Representatives of the Winnipeg Grain Exchange interviewed Prime Minister R. B. Bennett and offered their co-operation in carrying out Canada's undertakings under the world wheat reduction agreement adopted in London last summer.

The delegation was composed of H. E. Sellers, president of the exchange, and Sidney T. Smith and R. T. Evans, members of the council of the exchange. Their visit to the Prime Minister was to ascertain what steps should be taken to implement the agreement.

Mr. Bennett spent an hour with the exchange officials and discussed many angles of the wheat situation. The method by which the reduction would be brought about was being considered, he said, and would be ready for general consideration in time to apply it to the next crop. The wheat advisory committee appointed at the London conference was still in session in that city.

There has been much agitation in western grain circles for the establishment of a board, which would have a marked effect upon the operation of the exchange. An official statement made public after discussions made no mention of this aspect of the question.

On his western tour in October Mr. Bennett met representatives of three provinces in Regina and discussed the wheat agreement, on the basis of sharing Dominion and provincial responsibility according to the provisions in the North America Act. Subsequently the subject was discussed at a conference of the three prairie province governments in Calgary. The conclusions of this conference are being considered by the Dominion government and no definite decision has been announced as to the course that will be followed.

The members of the grain trade assured the Prime Minister, the statement said, that inasmuch as present world economic conditions made it necessary that some steps be taken "to relieve the wheat price situation from the depressing effect of an abnormal world carryover, the grain trade were prepared to support the proposal and co-operate with the appropriate authorities in implementing Canada's undertakings under the agreement."

Dominions Get Data

Free To Comment On Question Of Ireland Leaving Empire

London, Eng.—The correspondence between the Irish Free State and British governments relative to the question of Irish separation from the Empire has been forwarded to all the Dominions for their information.

They are free to comment on it if they desire, but, as J. H. Thomas, secretary for Dominions, emphasized in the House of Commons, there is no intention of dragging them into a domestic dispute.

Should President Eamon de Valera carry his quarrel to the point of actual declaration of a republic all members of the commonwealth would necessarily be involved. In that event an imperial conference would probably be summoned, but the question of separation here is considered so hypothetical that the method of consulting other Dominions in such a contingency has not arisen.

Dublin, Ireland.—Publication of the texts of notes exchanged between the Irish Free State and the British governments dispelled tension in the Free State and the belief increased there was little likelihood of a general election in the near future to vote on the question of secession from the empire.

Condemns Lynching

President Roosevelt Calls It Form Of Collective Murder

Washington.—President Roosevelt, in an address here, called lynching "a vile form of collective murder." The president also indirectly rebuked Governor James Rolph, of California, who recently expressed approval of mob action in San Jose, California, which resulted in the death of two men.

"We do not excuse those in high places or in low who condone lynch law," Mr. Roosevelt said.

He did not, however, in his speech before the federal council of Churches of Christ in America, directly refer to the California lynching or to similar incidents recently in Missouri and Maryland.

Mr. Roosevelt expressed faith in the "new generation" as a preliminary to his strong condemnation of mob violence.

The president said the United States Government was seeking the goal the churches look toward, and that from "the bottom of my heart I believe that this beloved country is entering upon a time of great gain."

Might Solve Problem

Controlled Rearmament Of Germany Has Been Suggested

Geneva, Switzerland.—In the absence of the president of the disarmament conference, now in Paris to discuss direct negotiations, the opinion is voiced by many delegations remaining at Geneva that the probable solution of the crisis will be found in controlled rearmament of Germany.

A committee appointed to devise a system of control of armaments has concluded its examination of the provisions in the North America Act. Examination of armaments in all countries by spot investigation has been recommended to the committee by many delegates.

Chairman Burgula, of Belgium, will summarize the committee's suggestions. Definite recommendations are found to be difficult in the absence of Germany.

Direct, although secret, negotiations have been started between France and Germany. Their success, it is believed, will depend on whether France and Germany can reach a real political understanding. The European problem of reduction of armaments hinges directly on this.

Fire Takes Four Lives

Parents Trapped With Two Children In Burning Home

Glacio Bay, N.S.—Trapped by an impenetrable wall of fire almost on the threshold of their front door, a heroic man and wife and two of their children, for whom they sacrificed their lives, were burned to death as roaring flames consumed their two-story frame house.

The four bodies were found within a few feet of what was once their front door—the door through which the mother and father carried two of their children and then raced back in a frantic effort to beat rapidly spreading flames to the little beds where the other children awaited rescue.

Successfully they battled their way through smoke and flames within sight of the door where baby, nine, and Buddy, five, who were saved, awakened them. But they were halted by the leaping flames and overcome by smoke.

The fire's origin was not known. The bodies were close together, the mother clasping the body of Joie while Harold was held in his father's death grip.

Robt. Matthews Sworn In As Minister Of National Revenue

Ottawa, Ont.—Robert Charles Matthews, member of parliament for Toronto East Centre, has been sworn in as minister of national revenue to succeed Hon. E. Ryckman, whose resignation, due to ill-health, was accepted recently.

The appointment was not unexpected, the name of Mr. Matthews having been prominently mentioned for the vacancy as soon as Mr. Ryckman's resignation was accepted.

Mr. Matthews lost no time in taking over his new duties. Within half an hour after the formal swearing in at Rideau Hall, Mr. Matthews was at his desk in Connaught Building acquainting himself with the staff.

Successful Flight

Lindberghs Cross South Atlantic In Sixteen Hours

Natal, Brazil.—Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his wireless-operating wife, the former Anne Morrow, have successfully flown the South Atlantic Ocean. They alighted on the harbor here at 3:10 p.m. Brazilian time (1:10 p.m. E.S.T.), after flying from Bathurst, Gambia, Africa, 1,875 miles away, in 16 hours, 10 minutes.

It was their first view of America since July 22 when they took off from Cartwright, Labrador, for Greenland, on a survey flight across the North Atlantic.

The whole population of Natal, its stores and offices closed for the fiesta welcome, its streets decorated, played the waterfountain.

With the alighting of the ship, Mrs. Lindbergh became the first woman to fly in an aeroplane across the South Atlantic.

THE UNLUCKY EGYPTIAN SQUADRON

Perhaps the most "unlucky" formation flight ever undertaken by a squadron of British aeroplanes took place recently when a number of military planes, manned by Egyptian officers, took off from England for Egypt, where they were intended for general purpose duties with the Egyptian Army Air Force. Shortly after the start of the flight bad weather was encountered and it was only after a fight against tremendous odds that the machines reached their destination. En route one plane crashed, killing the Egyptian officers, and later another machine was forced down with injury to the fliers. Our picture shows the squadron with an Egyptian officer in the foreground.

Bushmen In Custody

Thirty-Five Strikers Trapped In Railway Coach And Placed Under Arrest

Port William, Ont.—Trapped in the coach they had seized, 35 striking busworkers were in custody of Ontario Provincial police here on charges of vagrancy.

Outnumbered as the strikers quit camps in the Mabell district and boarded the Canadian National Railway train for here, police made efforts at conciliation when the invaders refused to pay fares.

Cries of "throw us off" arose from the men. The police, half a dozen in number, made an effort to remove the men from the train. Instead, they left the coach. Quickly the doors were slammed shut and wired, windows were guarded and the train began to move. The men were held prisoners until the train reached here, when additional police arrived and placed them all in custody.

Low Rates Bring Business

British Railways Find Low Fares Have Increased Revenue

London, Eng.—British railways have found the low two-cent per mile fare originally instituted for summer holiday traffic productive of such greatly increased revenue they have resolved to maintain them indefinitely.

During the early part of the year passenger receipts were down by nearly $15,000,000 compared with 1932, but with the institution of the two-cent rate came a rapid recovery. Receipts during a recent week, for instance, increased by $560,000 over the same week a year ago.

The Southern Railway announces it will electrify 60 more miles of line between Brighton and Eastbourne at a cost of nearly $10,000,000.

The Irish Question

Matter Is Discussed In The House Of Lords

London, Eng.—Lord Halsall, secretary for war, threw cold water on suggestions in the House of Lords that the United Kingdom recall its representative in the Irish Free State or that it raise the tariff wall against Free State goods. The suggestions were made during debate on the plight of British Loyalists resident in the Free State.

Answering a proposal of Lord Danesfort, distinguished jurist, that the representative be withdrawn, Lord Halsall said: "It is easier to break off relations than to find satisfactory means of re-establishing them." He added such a course would not be a "satisfactory or helpful step."

NEW LEAGUE OF NATIONS PLAN IS LAUNCHED

Rome, Italy.—A new program which would radically reorganize the League of Nations in the hope it may attract within its doors Japan and Germany and other world powers has been launched. It has been learned by the Associated Press.

The movement is under discussion in several European capitals, it was divulged. Its sponsors desire Russia to come into the league as well as the United States.

Italy had not yet formulated definite formal proposals to other members but she wants existing league articles which bind signatories to use military and economic forces to preserve boundaries created by the Versailles Treaty.

By these means it is hoped to remove the principal obstacles to United States membership.

(An Associated Press despatch from London said it was learned that Great Britain held questions of disarmament should supersede consideration of league reformation.)

Under the proposed reform of Geneva, a "league within the league" might be formed of the United States, Russia, Germany, Japan and possibly Poland and Spain or one or two others.

Under the proposed reorganization, it was learned, the world would be divided into three sections of influence to be dominated by the large nations.

(a) Europe, to be influenced by the United Kingdom, France and Italy.

(b) The Atlantic, to be dominated by Russia and Japan.

(c) The Americas, with the exception of Canada and other British territory, to be dominated by the United States.

Fighting Red Propaganda

Post Office Department Co-Operating With Government To Prevent Entry

Ottawa, Ont.—New drive against a flood of red propaganda said to be sweeping over Canada has been launched by Departments of the Federal Government. The chief publication which Ottawa is determined to keep out is the Moscow Daily News. Reports from several leading cities in Canada, including Winnipeg and Montreal, are to the effect that thousands of copies of this paper are being delivered to Canadian residences through the mails.

This newspaper was banned by the customs department, on the urgent request of the Canadian Mounted Police, some months ago, but measures to prevent its entry have proved ineffective.

The post office department reported that full co-operation would be given to the customs department in the drive. New barriers will be erected at every customs port in Canada. It is explained that the simplest way to stay illegal matter entry to Canada through the mails, is to check up on all imports.

Liquor Exports

Canada Intends To Conform With U.S. Regulations

Ottawa, Ont.—Canada intends to keep liquor exports in conformity with United States regulations, it was demonstrated when orders were issued by customs collectors that bond releases would be made only when a certificate was presented from an American consul.

Under Washington liquor regulations, which will be observed by customs officers here, an importer must secure a license before buying foreign whiskey. As a double check, the Canadian distiller must have his invoice validated by the consul in his territory before the Canadian officials will release the liquor from the bonded warehouses.

For a Stricter Observance of Highway Traffic Regulations.

Instructions from R. C. M. P. Headquarters to all detachments are to the effect that an even closer supervision of highway traffic must be made in future where possible, and that in case of major infractions of the law, prosecutions are to be undertaken at once.

Coupled with these instructions is an appeal to the motoring public of Alberta to co-operate to the utmost in bringing about a more strict observance of the regulations of the Vehicles and Highway Traffic Act. A clear warning is given all motor drivers that a close check-up on infractions of this Act is now being made by the Police thruout the province.

The circular calls attention to the increasing number of accidents on Alberta's roads, and points out that these were largely due to non-observance of existing motor car laws or of traffic regulations. The circular was issued by direction of Col. Newson, O.C. "K" Division, and has been concurred in by officials representing the Provincial Government.

It is intimated that a large number of motorists are under the impression that so long as they have a reflector affixed to the rear of the vehicle, they have conformed with the regulations, but such a provision applies only to stationary vehicles as mentioned in Sec. 36A of the 1933 amendments to V. & H. T. Act.

Illumination of Provincial Highways.

The magazine Electrical News and Engineering has prepared and issued a chart showing that winter accidents are fewer than summer accidents from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. because traffic is lighter. Between the hours of 6 and 8 p.m. winter accidents show a deplorable margin. Next to slippery road surfaces, the chief hazard of winter driving is darkness. Half the rural highway accidents occurring after dark, it is claimed, are directly due to drivers being unable to see the way clearly.

It is not a situation which need continue indefinitely. Highway illumination costs are very much smaller than some imagine. The estimated average expenditure on lighting rural highways per year per mile is from one thousand to fifteen hundred dollars, or around two per cent of the road construction cost. Illumination of provincial highways might easily pay for itself in lives saved and accident damages reduced.

An "Old Favorites" Contest.

Our attention has been drawn to an interesting Contest just launched by the Family Herald and Weekly Star. $1500.00 are offered in Cash Prizes to those most successfully solving a set of picture puzzles.

Each puzzle picture illustrates the title of an "Old Favorite" song, the object of the contest being to name each one of them correctly. A book featuring 1600 old Favorite Song titles has been compiled by the publishers. This book contains all of the songs which the puzzle pictures illustrate and a copy is given to every active contestant as an aid. The pictures are very cleverly drawn and provide interesting entertainment to those taking part. The nature of the Contest itself, as the name implies, brings back to mind those old familiar tunes which never seem to grow old and which recall memories of those happy days when they were the current musical hits.

Any of our readers will find it well worth while dropping a line to the Family Herald and Weekly Star, at Montreal, for full details of this Contest which will be gladly sent to anyone interested, along with a sample copy of the paper.

At Last—Another Runaway.

No horse runaways of note having occurred of late, Mr. Hinkelman's Golden Spike team of a gray-and-black broke the long spell Thursday afternoon about 3:42 by starting from scratch at the Armbruster scale and careening south on Main St. As usual, a bunch of arm-waving pedestrians got out on the roadway and tried to "shoo" the animals over into the shop windows, but the equines were not to be driven off their course, and paid no attention to these chaps. When the owner caught up to the team they were resting on the feed lot behind the town hall.

Wrestling and Dance.

Michael Bilinsky of Edmonton, three times middle weight champion of Canada, will battle Pete Jackson, colored light heavyweight from Vancouver; 2 best falls out of 3 to 1 hour time limit. Bilinsky also has some orchestra, Oliver's six piece Hawaiian, play for the dance; 6 fine prizes will be given for the best waltzers will be judged by Mrs. Woods of Stony Plain. A number of people will come from the City to see the match; also a fast preliminary has been arranged. Show starts 8:30 sharp. Andy Brass, referee; L. M. Larson, time-keeper.
